

Rural VIP No. 14: Rural Health Education and the Pathway to Rural Practice

Bottom line:

There is widespread agreement amongst respondents that there is room for improvement in their communities when it comes to supporting students pursuing health-care careers

The most common initiatives and activities utilized by communities to promote health-care careers are:

The most common themes for recommendations for additional supports to promote health-care careers are:

