

Rural VIP No. 15: Interprofessional Collaboration in Health Care

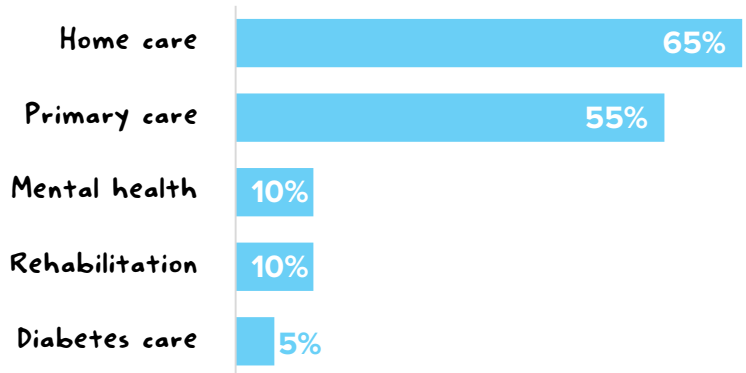

How did the respondents rate their understanding of how different health professionals work together to deliver care?

Per cent of respondents who are aware of interprofessional care teams or clinics in their communities:

The most common services provided by interprofessional teams within their communities are:

Per cent of respondents that have received care from an interprofessional care team in their community:

The most common health professionals visited within the interprofessional teams are:

