Hidden Gem! Sunken bridge: located just southwest of Ponoka, the 'sunken bridge' may be one of Ponoka County's best kept secrets. Originally, this was a cement structure with culverts that slowly sunk below the water of the tranquil Battle River. An ideal, traditional spot for fishing, it is also great for simply setting out the lawn chairs to relax and enjoy nature.

Did You Know? Ponoka boasts 10 km of paved trails that wind along the east banks of the scenic Battle River. Ideal for walkers, joggers, cyclists, and in-line skaters, the paths wind along a variety of trees and through open spaces while sharing the river valley with water fowl, songbirds and other wildlife. Even a resident beaver can be spotted!
