Hidden Gem! Dinosaur Provincial Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is only a 25-minute drive from Brooks. Visiting the park is a 75-million-year foray back in time. Strange land formations rise up on all sides, sculpted by wind and water into hauntingly beautiful shapes sunbathed in terra cotta, bronze, and amber.

We would like to acknowledge the traditional territories and oral practices of the Blackfoot Nation, which include the Siksika, the Kainai and the Piikani. We also acknowledge the Tsuut-ina, the Stoney Nakoda First Nations, the Metis Nation (Region 3), and all people who make their homes in the Treaty 7 region of Southern Alberta. We are making this acknowledgement to demonstrate our continuing efforts to work together as we strive for reconciliation through increased and collective learning.
